WHEN ALONE, LESSON 4

Genesis reveals that even before Adam and Eve sinned, God was anxious to solve Adam's problem of loneliness, and to provide him with a solution by forming Eve, as an earthly companion and soul mate.

It shouldn't surprise us, with sin separating us from God, that mankind is now in even more need of human companionship. Yes, loneliness is always just around the corner as we move from one life stage to another. Each has its own aspect of loneliness to battle.

A lot of family life is involved in this problem of loneliness. Marriages are often Satan's target, and the church must do its best in supporting those who feel the brunt of this emotion.

The church is designed to fulfill the need for companionship. We are meant to worship and serve Him in a corporate way, helping each other to eliminate loneliness from our lives by filling it with a love that includes us all. What are you doing for the lonely brothers and sisters, who are likely sitting close to you on the pew every week? Shouldn't our ministry start there?
